Motorhome and caravan of the year: Knaus Tabbert takes ten top positions

- Ten of Knaus Tabbert's models in top positions
- Results of an independent reader survey
- KNAUS Van TI wins the semi-integrated category
- WEINSBERG CaraCore dominates the integrated

Jandelsbrunn, January 2023. The New Year has started off for Knaus Tabbert with a bonanza of prizes and top results. Independent reader surveys from the renowned specialist magazines PROMOBIL and CARAVANING, both published by Motor Presse Stuttgart, showed that ten models in total from the KNAUS, WEINSBERG, TABBERT and T@B brands achieved excellent results. This level of success is unparalleled in this form:

It is therefore certain: A considerable proportion of the most popular motorhomes and caravans in Germany come from Knaus Tabbert. Both magazines published the results of their reader votes as part of the ongoing CMT exhibition, a major public exhibition for tourism and leisure in Stuttgart.

Both a KNAUS and a WEINSBERG made it to the top positions. PROMOBIL readers selected the KNAUS Van TI as the motorhome of the year in the semi-integrated category up to €70,000, one of the most important segments within the market - which wasn't just a convincing win, but also the second in succession. The KNAUS Van TI and its exceptional performance earned this triumph as it is a spacious vehicle that manages to be both agile and light in weight. That's not all: Readers also put the WEINSBERG CaraCompact, another Knaus Tabbert model, into third place in this category.

A second popular category, namely integrated vehicles up to €95,000, was dominated by the WEINSBERG CaraCore. Its dynamic, progressive design means this impressive model doesn't just set itself apart when on the road, but also impressed PROMOBIL's informed readers with a large range of features. They gave it the title of the 2023 Motorhome of the Year. The KNAUS Van I followed it into 3rd place.

Readers also expressed their trust in several different Knaus Tabbert caravans. In this case, the KNAUS Sport E-Power Selection took second place in the class of lower medium-sized vehicles, putting nearly all the competition behind them. In other categories such as the entry-level class, compact-sized and medium-sized vehicles, KNAUS, TABBERT, T@B and WEINSBERG vehicles, along with the different concepts and designs, all achieved impressive results within the top 3.
